

FAR HORIZONS

CATALOGUE OF SELECTED 2025 TRIPS

Welcome

Hello there! We're happy you are here!

At Far Horizons, we curate and cultivate trips for a niche market of energetic, intellectually curious people with an interest in exploring, getting off the beaten track, and supporting local communities and tradition. We speak directly with our guests and take the time to explain our itineraries and set expectations. We are happy to chat with you about your interests and goals and ensure to that each trip is a good fit for you.

Did you know that 85% of our guests return and travel with us again and again? There are good reasons for that! Our groups are small - just 14 people at maximum. The majority of our guests are solo travelers, and many are women. We design trips that are safe, but exotic, and that foster new relationships with your fellow travelers.

Far Horizons is unique. Our tours are different. They focus on archaeology and culture, are led by renowned PhD scholars, and are curated by a visionary team. We offer education, camaraderie, and an understanding of the world's cultures - both past & present. You don't need to have extensive knowledge, just an appetite for discovery.

Our itineraries are curated with education, archaeology, and discovery as the focus; we are dedicated to directly supporting the regions we visit by selecting local hotels; making monetary contributions to worthy projects and sites; and engaging with local people during our travels. We coordinate special access, private talks, and visit places and spaces not available for the average traveler.

Far Horizons has been offering trips around the world since 1983. In 2022, the founder, Mary Dell Lucas, retired and entrusted us to continue the legacy which she built.

As we continue to advance and grow, we keep at the forefront our commitment to providing a personalized experience. Working directly with our travelers is highly valuable; we want to hear from you, we enjoy getting to know you, and we are here to assist you. We encourage you to reach out and say hello!

We look forward to connecting, engaging, and of course, traveling with you!

Meet the CEO & CCO

Partners in life and business, this dynamic duo seeks to carry out the legacy of Far Horizons and add their own unique elements to shape and grow the vision.

Mary Collins

Chief Executive Officer

In addition to leading the charge as the CEO of Far Horizons, Mary is the co-founder of Blue Fern Travel, a history-infused food and cocktail tour company focused on supporting local businesses and community by sharing stories through flavors.

Mary earned her M.P.A. in nonprofit and international management, and has worked with Ugandan-based NGO, Paper to Pearls; children's shelter For Children's Sake; and the Department of Veterans Affairs.

Mary and Stefan have two daughters and a son who are adventurous culinary and cultural explorers.

Stefan Woehlke

Chief Curation Officer

Dr. Stefan Woehlke has been combining his love of archaeology, cultural heritage, and travel for over 20 years.

Stefan has traveled extensively with his wife, Mary. They realized that travel and tourism have great potential to support communities, but often, the relationship between tourism and the local economy was harmful to the livelihoods and wellbeing of the local people. Stefan enrolled in graduate school, where he helped Mary build their first company, Blue Fern Travel, whose mission is to ensure that tourist dollars get into the community.

In 2022, Stefan and Mary purchased Far Horizons to expand cross-cultural engagement, support archaeological research, and expand local benefits from the international travel industry.

EXPLORING BELIZE

February 6-14, 2025

with Dr. Stanley Guenter

Rediscover hidden temples and palaces that have stood in forested splendor for thousands of years... boat down a lazy river where the elusive crocodile floats among lily pads...sink your toes into the white sandy beach in the land of the Garifuna... travel with our archaeological specialist, who has intimate ties with the country and its people.

Far Horizons proudly offers our Belize archaeology tour – a colorful abundance of archaeology, culture, and natural history featuring Dr. Stanley Guenter. During this special 9-day trip, explore lost Maya ceremonial centers concealed by jungle shadows and meet people from the country's varied ethnic groups while seeing spectacular wildlife that other countries around the world label "endangered."

Long thought to be a backwater of the ancient Mayan, archaeological work here has proven the opposite. Explore Caracol, conqueror of Tikal in the 6th century; Lamanai, an important commercial center for more than 3,000 years; Xunantunich, where recent excavations have uncovered the tomb of an important king; Altun-Ha, a major center that controlled the Maya trade routes along the Caribbean coast; and the remote southern cities of Lubaantun and Nimli Punit, where yet another inscribed stela has recently been found.

EASTER ISLAND

February 9-20, 2025

with Dr. Sidsel Millerström

At the southeastern tip of the Polynesian triangle lies windswept Easter Island, one of the most remote spots on the planet. Surrounded by an endless ocean as blue as the sky and located 2,300 miles west of Santiago, Chile, this tiny dot of land is sixty square miles of rocky grasslands, extinct volcanic cones, and steep ocean cliffs.

Though our focus will be exploring the moai which stand all over the island, our journey will also coincide with the Tapati Festival, a cultural celebration that showcases the rich traditions of the Rapa Nui people. We will spend six full days exploring this open air museum, taking in the culture, getting to know the people, and developing a holistic understanding of Easter Island's role in human history.

This tour extends beyond Easter Island to include a three-day visit to Santiago, Chile's capital. Here, you will explore the Natural History Museum and the Pre-Columbian Art Museum, as well as the picturesque coastal city of Viña del Mar. Our Easter Island trip is crafted to provide an immersive experience, combining cultural festivities with archaeological discoveries for a truly memorable adventure.

"This trip was a dream I've had for many years. It fulfilled my dream completely." – Ann Schroeder

Campeche Mexico

Discover the YUCATAN

February 16-26, 2025

with Dr. Stanley Guenter

Venture into the secluded southern regions bordering Guatemala, where recent excavations have unveiled the remnants of pyramids and cities that were once nearly inaccessible. The discoveries made here, including transformative hieroglyphic texts reshape our understanding of the Maya, revealing a history concealed for over a millennium. Dzibanché showcases fragments of vividly painted stucco and graffiti, hinting at the influential family glyphs of Kaan.

This location might have once been a powerful center, predating Calakmul. Meanwhile, Balamkú boasts striking stucco murals that retain their original polychrome paint.

This compelling Yucatán tour offers visits to four UNESCO World Heritage Sites. Explore Calakmul, now recognized as the capital of the Kaan (or Snake) Kingdom. This mighty realm once rivaled Tikal for dominance—Marvel at Uxmal's intricately adorned structures and Chichén Itzá's impressive Great Ball Court, Mesoamerica's largest. Lastly, step back in time to Campeche, a city established in 1540 and fortified against pirates in the 17th century.

Journey with Dr. Stanley Guenter, a renowned archaeologist, and Maya hieroglyph expert. Gain insights into the intense struggles for supremacy among the Maya rulers, as depicted on their monumental edifices. This is no ordinary Yucatán tour: it's an immersive Mexico educational tour into the heart of the Maya civilization.

Far Horizons offers two fascinating ways to explore Türkiye. Beginning in mid-May with an exhilarating tour of East Türkiye, travel with Dr. Jennifer Tobin to explore a region brimming with historical wonders, including castles, tombs, and four UNESCO World Heritage Sites, including Göbekli Tepe, which, along with Karahan Tepe is considered among the world's earliest sacred spaces.

This region boasts an eclectic mix of towering mountains, dense forests with waterfalls, green pastures, and the stark contrast of arid deserts in the south. As a historical crossroads of Eastern and Western cultures for millennia, East Türkiye is rich in a wide array of historical remnants. Join Far Horizons and a small group of just 13 others for a 16-day adventure into this less-traveled part of Türkiye.

DR. FRED KLEINER

A treasured guest shares his experience with Far Horizons in Western Türkiye with Dr. Jennifer Tobin

I have now been on three Far Horizons tours. On the first one (to Japan), I was the only first-time traveler. A few of the others had been on ten or more tours. I quickly learned why Far Horizons enjoys incredible loyalty from travelers. All logistics, from fielding pre-trip questions by email and phone to the trip itself are models for the travel industry. Airport transfers, hotel check-ins, dinner reservations, luggage handling, etc., etc. are all absolutely optimal. This provides a stress-free travel experience for all participants and permits everyone in the group to focus on the things that are really important, namely experiencing the various destinations and learning from the professor-tour leader.

All three tours I have taken with Far Horizons were wonderful, and I have recommended them highly to friends. Western Turkey, however, stands apart from the other two and from the vast majority of tours operated by Far Horizons and other companies. Western Turkey à la Far Horizons is perhaps the ultimate (multi-) cultural tour. In a whirlwind 16 days, we visited and learned a great deal about the Neolithic, Hittite, Greek, Roman, Byzantine, and Ottoman civilizations as well as modern Turkey. It is difficult to single out a highlight of the itinerary because each stop offered so much and there isn't a single one that I would skip on any future version of this tour. Indeed, it is amazing how much ground was covered in a couple of weeks. The congenial group of fellow travelers (almost all solo travelers like myself) meant that even long hours in the bus (with frequent pit stops) were quite tolerable.

Professor Jennifer Tobin was absolutely fabulous. Formerly a professor at a major Turkish university before taking up her position at the University of Illinois, Jennifer possesses a thorough knowledge of all sites, which she generously shared with us, providing meticulously prepared handouts and fielding questions of all kinds effortlessly. She was also super friendly with a welcome sense of humor. It really was a treat to travel with, and learn from, her—and I have already signed up to travel with Jennifer and Far Horizons in 2025 to Tunisia.

Dream of the relaxation as a smiling crewman brings you a frosty drink and serves you delectable Turkish dishes created by your personal chef. Each day presents a new discovery!

Explore the dazzling remains of former civilizations, fascinating crusader's castles, and remote fishing villages. Enjoy the leisure time to hike, swim in the crystal-clear water of the Eastern Mediterranean or simply snooze on deck. And during the voyage, enjoy informal lectures on the culture, archaeology, and history of Türkiye.

Far Horizons proudly presents a 15-day trip along the Mediterranean coast of Türkiye that includes eight days onboard a traditional wooden gulet, or motor-sailer. Today, as in antiquity, the ancient cities along the Turkish Caria and Lycia coasts are most accessible to the outside world from the sea. This part of the Turkish coastline is so lush, verdant, and bountiful in natural beauty and history that it takes your breath away. Won't you join only eight others for what is truly a trip of a lifetime?

The Phoenicians, Romans, Vandals, Byzantines, Spanish, Turks, and French have all stamped their imprint, and we will witness the visible remains of their passing. During the excursion, see all seven of Tunisia's UNESCO World Heritage Sites - Dougga, Kairouan, the medinas of Sousse and Tunis, the Punic remains of Kerkouane, magnificent Carthage, and El Jem, the largest Roman amphitheater in North Africa.

CYPRUS, RHODES & MALTA

March 15 – 29, 2025

with Dr. Carol Symes

For thousands of years, the islands of Cyprus, Rhodes, and Malta and the Eastern Mediterranean sea coasts have been invaded, explored, inhabited, and claimed by a multitude of civilizations. These locations were of great strategic importance, and during the Crusades, knights and kings conquered and lost great swaths of this land. The profusion of magnificent archaeological ruins left behind proclaim their significance.

Join Far Horizons for a 15-day tour from Cyprus to Rhodes to Malta, along the path of the Knights of the Crusades. Known as the Order of the Knights of St. John of Jerusalem, the order was founded to defend the crusader towns in the Holy Land. When these settlements collapsed, the Knights continued their fight in Cyprus, Rhodes, Symrna, Bodrum and ultimately Malta. The Order still exists in Rome as 'The Sovereign Military and Hospitaller Order of St. John of Jerusalem, called of Rhodes, called of Malta', while in Britain it spawned the St. John's Ambulance Brigade. We will follow its journey across time and across the Mediterranean Sea upon which it left very deep and still visible imprints.

ROME

& SOUTHERN ITALY

May 21 - 31, 2025

Rome, the Eternal City, has been in existence for more than 3,000 years. Rome was, for centuries, the center of the known world and it commanded a vast empire with control on three continents.

Aside from China, the Roman Empire is the longest lasting such polity on record, beginning in 264 BC and continuing down to the collapse of the Western Empire in 476 AD. As a result of its imperial past, the modern city of Rome is the largest archaeological park in the world. This is why we have created such a comprehensive archaeological tour of Italy, delving into its rich Roman history.

Join Far Horizons on an 11-day archaeological tour of Rome in Italy, exploring the monuments of Rome's ancient past, deeply embedded in the fabric of the modern city. The sites we visit are not only impressive in size and construction, but their endurance over the passing of time reveal the empire's lasting influences on future generations.

WALES & ROMAN ENGLAND

June 2 – 16, 2025

with Dr. James Bruhn

Our tour of Wales and England takes you through picturesque landscapes to visit renowned UNESCO World Heritage Sites. Delve into the world's largest prehistoric copper mine at Great Orme, marvel at the ancient Segontium Roman Fort, and wander through the medieval grandeur of St. David's Bishop's Palace and Cathedral. Our England and Wales tours highlight the majestic Castles and Town Walls of Edward I, including Caernarfon, Conwy, Beaumaris, and Harlech.

Wales, while closely tied to Great Britain's history, boasts a unique cultural identity that we'll uncover on this Wales tour. From the Roman influence evident across the Welsh and Western English countryside, to the awe-inspiring Edwardian castles of Conwy and Beaumaris, our historic England tours promise an unforgettable experience.

Our exploration delves into why Wales is home to so many castles. With the Norman advance beginning in 1066, it was under Edward I's rule that Welsh kingdoms faced significant challenges. Edward's campaigns in 1276–77 and 1282–83 aimed to integrate Wales under English dominance, resulting in the construction and restoration of numerous castles. This history comes to life as we visit some of the UK's finest castles, each a testament to a turbulent yet fascinating past.

DISCOVER THE SWAHILI COAST: AN ARCHAEOLOGICAL ODESSEY

June 27 - July 12, 2025

with Dr. Stephanie Wynne-Jones

Embark on an extraordinary 16-day journey along the Swahili Coast, where the ebb and flow of trade winds have carried merchants, conquerors, and cultures for over a millennium. From the 8th century, when Arab and Persian traders first established settlements on the East African coast, to the arrival of Portuguese explorers in the 15th century, and through the era of Omani sultanates, this narrow coastline has been a crucible of cultural exchange. Our expedition will take you from the winding alleys of Lamu, a town that has remained largely unchanged since the 18th century, to the imposing ruins of Kilwa Kisiwani, once described by Ibn Battuta as “one of the most beautiful and well-constructed cities in the world.”

The Swahili Coast's strategic location made it a vital link in the Indian Ocean trade network, connecting the African interior with Arabia, Persia, India, and China. Gold from Zimbabwe, ivory from the Congo, and slaves from the continental interior flowed through Swahili ports, returning with porcelain, silk, and spices. This commerce gave rise to a unique Swahili culture, a sophisticated blend of African and Asian influences reflected in everything from language and cuisine to architecture and art. Our journey will reveal this cultural tapestry, from the intricately carved doorways of Mombasa's Old Town to the haunting ruins of Gede, abandoned in the 17th century for reasons that remain a mystery.

“Visitors will explore mosques, palaces and townscapes built from coral and lime, while learning about the network of maritime trade that connected these places to the Indian Ocean world since earliest times.” - Dr. Wynne Jones

As we traverse the coast from Kenya to Tanzania, we'll witness the enduring legacy of this remarkable civilization. We'll explore Lamu, where traditional dhows still ply the waters and donkeys remain the primary mode of transport. In Zanzibar, we'll wander through Stone Town's labyrinth of alleys, where the air is heavy with the scent of cloves, and the shadows of the slave trade still linger. Our journey culminates in Kilwa Kisiwani, the medieval powerhouse that once controlled much of the East African gold trade. Throughout our expedition, the expertise of Dr. Stephanie Wynne-Jones will bring to life the stories written in stone and sand, offering insights into ongoing archaeological discoveries that continue to reshape our understanding of this fascinating region.

INDONESIA: BALI & THE SPICE ISLANDS

June 27 – July 13, 2025

With Dr. Eric Tagliacozzo

Indonesia straddles the equator between the Indian Ocean and the Pacific Ocean; with thousands of volcanic islands, Indonesia is one of the largest countries in the world, in terms of combined sea and land area, as well as population. The archipelago is home to hundreds of ethnic groups speaking many different languages and has been an important center of the long-distance spice trade for more than a thousand years.

Join award-winning Professor Eric Tagliacozzo and just 13 others on a very special 16-day journey that covers several of Indonesia's eastern islands.

On Sulawesi visit Makassar, the center of the Bugis trading diaspora, whose black-flagged ships sailed Indonesia's seas as one of the country's most important trading minorities. Also visit Ambon, the largest city in eastern Indonesia and a jumping-off point for trips to marine ecosystems that have barely been touched by international tourism.

Discover Ternate and Tidore, small volcanic islands and the well-spring for the global clove trade, which attracted European ships from half a world away during the Age of Discovery five hundred years ago. Then it's on to In Bali, to experience their truly unique customs where inhabitants devote most of their waking hours to an endless series of offerings, purifications, processions, and a plethora of other spiritual rites celebrated in elaborate temples. We will observe how this way of life is further proclaimed in their diverse art forms – painting, sculpture, woodcarving, handcrafts, and performances.

ICELAND: IN THE PATH OF THE VIKINGS

June 2-16, 2025

with Dr. Chris Callow

Sitting in a remote corner of the North Atlantic Ocean, Iceland is a mountainous island nation celebrated for its dramatic scenery. Shining black sand beaches, stunning fjords, gushing geysers, majestic volcanoes, misty waterfalls, and massive glaciers create some of the most atmospheric landscapes on the planet.

During the Early Middle Ages Norsemen traveled, traded, and established permanent colonies in many locations throughout northern Europe. As seafaring increased, either blown off course or intentionally exploring, Norsemen 'discovered' Iceland. Unlike other regions colonized by the Vikings, this new land had no indigenous population (although Irish hermit monks were probably on the island earlier than the Norsemen). Ancient sagas describe Iceland as a rich land filled with game and fish, birch and willow woodland, and forests that stretched from highland slopes to the valleys below.

Tales of this paradise spread, and in the 9th century, Scandinavian pioneers looking to start a new life arrived in Iceland. The people who inhabit Iceland now are direct descendants of the Vikings.

THE ART OF THE SILK ROAD

July 16-26, 2025

with Dr. Jenny Rose

Far Horizons proudly presents a truly unique 11-day tour to Berlin, Paris, and London, and Oxford with an emphasis on each city's great museums and their Silk Road collections. During the trip, we will learn about several civilizations that developed along the ancient Silk Road. Sogdiana was an ancient Iranian civilization that at different times included territory located in present-day Tajikistan and Uzbekistan. The Parthians were an Iranian dynasty that lasted for nearly five hundred years, successfully taking back territory in the Near East from first the Seleucid Greeks and then the Romans. They were followed by the Sasanians, the last Persian (Zoroastrian) Empire before the rise of Islam, who held their own against their arch-rival the Roman-Byzantine Empire to rule from 224 to 651.

Begin our explorations in Berlin, where we enjoy an immersive experience at the Pergamon Museum 3D virtual installation and a tour of the Museum of Asian Art. Fly to Paris where we will visit the National Library, The Musée Guimet, and the Louvre Museum. By train through the Chunnel, we move to London, for a day in the British Museum, including a private viewing of Sasanian artifacts not on public display. Our time in London will also include the British Library and the Victoria and Albert Museum. We end the tour with a special day at the Ashmolean Museum in Oxford. Overnights will be in fabulous grand hotels within walking distance of these great museums, and dinners will be memorable, including an evening at the Eiffel Tower Restaurant with views over the Trocadéro.

DR. JENNY ROSE

JENNY ROSE EXPLAINS WHAT SHE LOVES ABOUT THE ART OF THE SILK ROAD: EUROPEAN MUSEUMS

It is an incredible experience to be able to explore ancient sites in distant lands. Our understanding of the significance of each site is then enhanced by the opportunity to study its material finds. For various reasons, however, the majority of such finds are often located in a dedicated museum many miles away, sometimes even in another country.

The Art of the Silk Road tour, unique to Far Horizons, will track down some of the items unearthed from ancient Silk Road sites, now in modern Iran and Central Asia, which are housed in archives in Germany, France, and England. Our voyage of discovery through these European museums will take us from an Iron Age burial site in southern Altai, through a Parthian (Iranian) capital in Turkmenistan, to Panjikant in modern Tajikistan, where the town's wealthy residents painted the interior walls of their homes with religious and mythological scenes. On several behind-the-scenes tours, specialist curators will introduce important artifacts not usually on display to the general public. Many of these objects that we will view in an 'up close and personal' setting were the byproduct of late 19th - early 20th century geopolitical surveys that formed part of the "Great Game." They include antiquities and photos relating to Sir Aurel Stein's expeditions between Kashgar to Dunhuang (modern China); Buddhist murals and unique Zoroastrian manuscripts from Silk Road caves; and textiles from the oasis town of Bukhara (modern Uzbekistan).

Although we will not be crossing the harsh deserts and snow-covered mountains, nor visiting the rock-cut caves and lush oases of the ancient Silk Roads, this tour will reveal many insights into the cultures, religions, and social institutions of the peoples who inhabited those landscapes. Our journey promises to be a colorfully intense introduction to the art, artefacts, cultural activities and religious ideologies carried along ancient trading routes. Won't you join me?

In the Path of the Conquistadors

October 12-26, 2024

with Professor Stanley Guenter

The kingdom of Spain has had one of the greatest impacts on world history and civilization. 500 years ago the Conquistadors had just conquered the Aztec Empire of Mexico and were about to start their conquest of the Maya kingdoms. Within a decade they would conquer the Inca of Peru and the wealth in gold and silver that they seized would help make 16th century Spain the richest kingdom and most powerful empire on earth. Who were these Conquistadors who took on indigenous American empires many times larger than their own kingdom and, in the face of enormous odds, conquered them for "gold, God, and glory" and ended up creating the first empire in history "on which the sun never set"?

"Stan is amazing! He was full of information and attentive, and was always so quick to share. He was very attentive and patient with questions. He had a great sense of humor too and a very pleasant, easy going personality. I hope you can entice him to lead future trips!"

HIMALAYAN KINGDOMS

WITH PROFESSOR MALCOLM DAVID ECKEL

The tiny, isolated Himalayan kingdoms of Ladakh and Bhutan are squeezed between the powerful countries of China and India. For centuries, their monarchs enjoyed absolute power in their mountain strongholds, venerated by their subjects as embodiments of gods, but in the 20th century, the supremacy of these domains fell. In 1947, partition left Ladakh as part of India, and in 2005, Bhutan became a constitutional monarchy.

Join Far Horizons and just 13 other guests on this 20-day journey through these two remarkable Himalayan Kingdoms. The enticing itinerary includes the remote high-altitude beauty and vibrant Tibetan Buddhist culture of Ladakh, one of the highest regions in the world, frequently called "Little Tibet."

From the capital of Leh, drive through dramatic scenery to view the elaborately decorated Buddhist sanctuaries, stupas, and former royal palaces found in the nearby rugged valleys and magnificent towering crags. Scattered throughout are traditional Tibetan Buddhist monasteries filled with stunning murals and Hindu shrines of the Nepali people.

In Bhutan, emerald rice paddies cascade down the hillsides, remote centuries-old monasteries cling to the cliffs, and massive Buddhist sanctuary fortresses dominate picturesque towns where houses are decorated with magical charms to keep the evil spirits away. It is truly an enchanting part of the world!

Along with Buddhist specialist and The Great Courses lecturer Professor Malcolm David Eckel, delight in a unique adventure through these Himalayan kingdoms on this unforgettable tour.
